To Whom It May Concern

I am very pleased to write this letter on behalf of Arhaan Ashish Jain. Since he has been studying voice with me over the last few months he has shown huge commitment to singing and to music in general. He learns quickly and is keen to understand the music that we are learning to the best of his capability, which makes him a wonderful student. It is clear that Arhaan has a lot of natural musicality and talent which is truly worth nurturing. As well as that natural inclination, he is also willing to work hard and is constantly looking to improve.

At present we are working towards his Grade 2 ABRSM singing exam and he is making good progress week by week. Alongside his prior knowledge of Indian Classical Music, he has really come to understand how to use his voice for western classical technique as well and I am very proud of the sound he is making. Arhaan is passionate about music and dedicated to it, which makes him an exemplary student and an absolute pleasure to teach.

Yours Sincerely,

Katie Morel-Orchard
